Agrilevante 2019 – Application form

We are pleased to send you the Application Form and General Conditions for Participation for Agrilevante 2019.

The International Exhibition of Machinery and Technologies for Agriculture, organized by FederUnacoma Surl in collaboration with Nuova Fiera del Levante, will take place in Bari from October 10th to 13th.

Thanks to its geographical position and its specialization, Agrilevante has been able over the years to acquire a predominant position among the Exhibitions dedicated to agriculture and agro-industry in the Mediterranean Basin and the Balkans. More than 300 Exhibitors from the main productive sectors took part in the 2017 edition, occupying 50,000 sqm of exhibiting area (covering the main production sectors). A record-breaking number of 70,000 visitors, of which 3,000 foreign, has been achieved, thanks also to the presence of official delegations from 30 Countries.

For the 2019 edition we have already registered, along with the confirmation by regular Exhibitors, a relevant increase in the number of Companies taking part in Agrilevante for the first time. We also foresee an increase in the number of visitors, in particular of foreign visitors, coming from the entire Mediterranean Basin and the Balkan peninsula.

Agrilevante is divided into six major sections, respectively dedicated to cereal crops, the olive-oil sector, the horticultural industry, viticulture and oenology, livestock, and finally energy and non-food production.

The presence of the entire livestock supply chain will be one of the main news of the 2019 edition: thanks to the support of the Italian Breeders' Association (AIA), a meaningful cross section of the rich animal biodiversity of our Country will be shown in an exhibition – handled in particular by the Regional Breeders' Association of the Apulia Region – of 500 head, with exhibitions and competitions of the main breeds of dairy and meat cattle, buffaloes, sheep, goats, equidae and rabbits, with particular attention to those typical of southern Italy.

The Multifunctionality in Agriculture (MIA) industry completes the exhibition offerings, covering all possible activities in rural areas, complementary to agriculture and able to create additional income. Specific conferences, workshops and roundtables will focus on the topics related to multifunctionality. Significant space is also dedicated to the demonstration area for renewable energy, a sector strongly growing throughout Southern Italy and the Mediterranean.

The event is characterized by the high technological level with the Technical Innovation Competition, which awards the most advanced solutions, among those presented by exhibiting companies for the first time, and by a full calendar of conferences and technical, economic and political meetings.

The Application Form presents a price list based on the requested area and a co-marketing initiative, that will allow Companies taking part in both Agrilevante 2019 and Eima International 2020 to avail of a discounted tariff. The Agrilevante 2019 Exhibitor, who will book an indoor area, will be granted a 30% discount on the booked area only by participating in Eima International 2020. The amount will be deducted from the cost of the area booked in Eima International 2020.

Companies that submitted the pre-registration form will avail of the special tariffs reported in the form itself.

The application form shall be sent along with the receipt of the transfer of the advance binding payment to FederUnacoma surl - Via Venafro 5 – 00159 Roma - Italy. Applications reaching without the said receipt will not be registered. The application form is as well available on the Exhibition website www.agrilevante.eu

We look forward to your participation in an event, that represents by now a reference point for the entire primary sector in the Mediterranean area

Best Regards

Dott. Marco Acerbi
Exhibitions Department Director
